The club was founded in 1949 by local wildfowler's to preserve their Wildfowling rights on the Tay Estuary. With an original membership on 8 the T.V.W.A. was the first club in Scotland and the fifth club in the U.K. to gain affiliation to WAG-BI now known as the British Association for Shooting and Conservation.

The club still actively supports shooting in and around Fife and Tayside, and as a member of B.A.S.C. all our members have considerable insurance cover in addition to backing of professional help in shooting and conservation matters.

Although still having strong Wildfowling links, the clubs 60 members have a varied interest in country sports, from fishing and gundog trials to driven game shooting. We have a strong Junior section of 10 Juniors who take an active part in the club.
