

Lucky Scaup Mentoring / Clean up Day 5th March 2017

Our trip out to the Island was blessed with blue skies and sunshine which was remarkable given the weather the previous day. We collected 4 full waste bags of rubbish consisting of plastic bottles, cooking gas canisters, hard hats, glass bottles, tin cans, small deposits of fishing net and surprisingly a complete wet suit in good condition!! (going cheap)

Pinkfoot, shelduck, mallard, wigeon, gooseander, and eider were all spotted whilst out there

After a short rather sweaty walk back over the sands and mud we deposited the offending items into their appropriate skips at the links car park bins. Next we headed over to Morton Lochs as it was on our way home, about 50 greylags were seen on the water, tufted ducks, little grebes, herons, coots and water hens rounded of the day. Top spot though was a red squirrel feeding on the nuts by the track side hide we could have watched it all day.

Many thanks to members and friends for making it a successful and rewarding day. Watch out for it happening again in 2018
